CIIC: First Focus Is on Sports + Recreation Center

By TOM RESSLER

A glimpse into Juniata's future — via a slide show of plans for a $4-million Sports+Recreation Center — highlighted Homecoming '80 for some 500 returning alumni.

Presented by the Altoona-based architectural firm of Hayes, Large, Suckling and Fruth, the slide show was featured during the launching of a multi-faceted, $13-million campaign of which the first phase will fund construction of the 60,000-square-foot athletic facility.

Dubbed "The Century II Campaign: An Investment in Continued Excellence," (CIIC) the fund drive is the largest in the College's 104-year history. Other of the CIIC's overall objectives are financial support for scholarships, the academic program, endowment growth, program enrichment, campus development and renovation of existing buildings.

"Mental and emotional well-being are greatly dependent upon physical fitness and well-being," said Juniata Board Chairman Charles C. Ellis '40, stressing that "the Sports+Recreation Center will enable Juniata to offer its students greatly-enhanced opportunities to develop life-long physical fitness and recreational skills."

Ellis, senior vice president of RCA, further observed that the need for the new facility is intensified by Juniata's record student body of some 1300, more than double the enrollment when Memorial Gymnasium, the present facility, was designed and built in the early 1950s.

Center to Include Pool

To be included in the Sports+Recreation Center — which will be annexed to a refurbished Memorial Gymnasium — are a six-lane swimming pool, a two-station gymnasium, a wrestling-judo-gymnastics room and a large multi-purpose room.

Renovations to Memorial Gymnasium will provide equal locker facilities for men and women, a weight-training room, a dance studio, coaches' offices and a first aid-training room.

Henry H. Gibbel of Lititz '57, general chairman of the CIIC, noted that in addition to the Sports+Recreation Center and a refurbished Memorial Gym, a new College Field grandstand, housing its own locker facilities, is planned as part of the project.

Executive vice president of Lititz Mutual Insurance Co., Gibbel further explained that the new facilities are needed to accommodate not only Juniata's 15 varsity men's and women's athletic teams, but also intramural and personal recreational use.

Elaborating, Juniata President Frederick M. Binder said that in addition to providing new recreational opportunities — such as swimming — the Sports+Recreation Center "will enable more Juniata students to have much greater access to recreational facilities."

President Binder explained that some 85 percent of the student body participates in organized intramural sports, with Memorial Gym being "utilized to its capacity and open from 8 a.m. to midnight seven days a week."

Although unable to attend the campaign kick-off, Charles R. (Chuck) Knox '54 — alumni gifts chairman and vice president-football operations of the NFL's Buffalo Bills — sent a letter which perhaps best summed up this year's Homecoming mood.

"The athletic and recreational program which was in existence during my student days does not compare with the expanded agenda that is available for current students," Knox wrote, adding that "the need today is obvious and I am pleased to play a part in the continued growth and development of my alma mater." Knox has been a Trustee since 1978.

Leadership Announced

In addition to Knox and Gibbel — the latter of who has served as a Trustee from 1973 to 1976 and from 1978 to the present — 24 other persons are serving in leadership capacities for the initial phase of the CIIC.

Edwin L. Kennedy of New York City

— a senior partner in Lehman Brothers, Kuhn, Loeb, Inc., a New York investment firm — is serving as honorary chairman for the CIIC. A Trustee since 1969, he received an honorary doctor of humane letters degree from Juniata in 1968.

Dorothy (Lehman '50) Hershberger of Martinsburg is serving as the assistant general chairperson. Mrs. Hershberger chaired the 1977-78 Annual Support Fund campaign and presently is serving a three-year term as a member-at-large to the Alumni Council.

Serving as Foundation-corporation gifts chairman is Vincent A. Sarni, vice-president chemicals of PPG Industries, Inc. Sarni, currently in his first term on the Board of Trustees, received an honorary doctor of humane letters degree from Juniata in 1979.

Earl D. Croner '38 of Berlin and Klare S. Sunderland '56 of Camp Hill are serving as special gifts chairmen. Both men are Trustees, Croner since 1975 and Sunderland since 1970. Croner is president of Croner, Inc. (a mining concern) and of the Western Pennsylvania National Bank. Sunderland is president of Harrisburg's Sunderland Chevrolet, Inc.

Special gifts chairmen are Dr. Calvert N. Ellis '23 and Dr. Harold B. Brumbaugh '33, president emeritus and vice president emeritus for college relations, respectively. Both men are residents of Huntingdon and both are Trustees, Dr. Ellis since 1943 and Dr. Brumbaugh since 1979.

Serving under Knox as alumni gifts vice chairpersons are: Charles C.

Brown, Jr. '59, of Bellefonte, Judge of the Centre County Court of Common Pleas; W. Clay Burkholder '35 of Milroy, retired executive director of the Tuscarora Intermediate Unit; Richard L. Dodge '57 of Harrisburg, president of Dodge Insurance Agency; George Fattman '58 of Johnstown, editor of the Johnstown Tribune Democrat; Rex W. Hershberger '50 of Martinsburg, president of Hershberger & Myers Insurance, Inc.; Barbara (Walls '59) McQuaide of Centre Hall; and Gary L. Pote '68, senior vice president of Shearson Leob Rhoades, Inc.

Also serving as alumni gifts vice chairpersons are: George G. Pote '55 of Camp Hill, agency manager for Bankers Life Insurance Co.; John C. Richman '53 of San Francisco, vice president of Fireman's Fund Insurance Co.; the Rev. W. Clemens Rosenberger '54 of Lititz, pastor of the Lititz Church of the Brethren; Betty (Finnegan '49) Simpson of Tyrone; Kenneth J. Wenger '50 of Pittsburgh, president of Wenger Associates; and Francis W. Zimmerman '54 of North Wales, supervisor of system service & support data processing for Bell Telephone Co.

Earl C. Kaylor, Jr. '46, is serving as the campus gifts chairman. Juniata's Charles A. Dana Supported Professor of Religion and History and chairman of the history department, Dr. Kaylor has been a Juniata faculty member since 1958. (For more about Dr. Kaylor, please see page 3).

Serving as campus gifts vice chairpersons are William F. Berrier '60, director of athletics, and Nancy H. Latimore, coach of women's athletics.

President Binder converses with Gerald D. Shealer '81 and David W. Miller '81, this year's recipients of the Elizabeth Baily Thornbury Pre-Law Student Scholarship and the William A. Schlichter Award, respectively.

Juniata Professor and Author Has One Book at Printer's, Another Underway

Out of the Wilderness: The Brethren and Two Centuries of Life in Central Pennsylvania, 1780-1980, a new book by Dr. Earl C. Kaylor, Jr. '46, is being printed and will be available early next year.

Dr. Kaylor, Charles A. Dana Supported Professor of History and Religion and chairman of the history department, notes that the book "is a different kind of denominational history than has been published previously because it contains cultural, intellectual and theological perspectives often overlooked in the past."

The book, being printed by Consolidated Publishing Corp. of Canbury, N.Y., is further described as a "historical study about the role of the early Brethren in Pennsylvania's interior counties in liberating their denomination from its sectarian past."

With Out of the Wilderness well on its way through the publishing process, Dr. Kaylor is focusing his attention on his next book, Martin G. Brumbaugh: Educator-Statesman, a biography of the Pennsylvania governor (1915-19) who also served two presidencies at Juniata (1893-1910 and 1924-30).

Despite Dr. Brumbaugh's historical significance as an educator (he was a national figure at the turn of the century) and a statesman (his was one of the Commonwealth's most progressive administrations), Dr. Kaylor says that his book will be the first scholarly study of Brumbaugh written by a historian.

The reason? No one had Dr. Brumbaugh's private papers.

That is, no one but Dr. Claude R. Flory '29, who received Dr. Brumbaugh's personal papers after developing a close friendship with Dr. and Mrs. Brumbaugh.

Intending to write a biography about Dr. Brumbaugh, Dr. Flory held the papers — which fill 23 boxes — for many years, turning them over to Dr. Kaylor last year. Now, with the "greatly appreciated" help of several Juniata students, Dr. Kaylor is itemizing the papers and preparing them for inclusion in his book.

"I'd still like to know more about Dr. and Mrs. Brumbaugh as individuals," Dr. Kaylor says, stressing that he would appreciate receiving "any stories or anecdotes about Dr. and Mrs. Brumbaugh that would help paint a fuller picture of their personal characteristics and lives." Persons who are able to contribute such information should send it to Dr. Kaylor in care of Juniata.

A prolific writer who penned 18 articles for the Brethren Encyclopedia last year, Dr. Kaylor also has another full-length book to his credit, Truth Sets Free: A Centennial History of Juniata College, 1876-1976, published in conjunction with the College's celebration of its 100th birthday.

At Opening Convocation

President Begins Year, Presents Awards

Urging the Class of 1984 to disassociate itself from George Orwell's bleak view of 1984, President Binder delivered the Opening Convocation address, officially beginning the College's 105th academic year Sept. 7.

In addition, Dr. Binder presented two of the College's prestigious awards: the William A. Schlichter Award to David W. Miller '81 of Clarksville, Md., and the Elizabeth Baily Thornbury Pre-Law Student Scholarship to Gerald D. Shealer '81 of Gettysburg.

Referring to the pessimistic perspective of Orwell's classic novel, 1984, Dr. Binder told his audience — which included upperclass students, parents, faculty and staff members — that "while we are conscious of the uncertainties and injustices of this world, we can do something about them."

"The place to start is within ourselves as individuals," Dr. Binder continued. "It is possible to supplant the casual with the sincere, cynicism with reasoned optimism, selfishness with generosity, and to move and work and learn and to accomplish positive things as a community of young adults without sacrificing your individuality."

He added: "The community of the spirit through cooperative, responsible living goes hand-in-hand with the community of the mind through the study of the humanities. This is the mission of Juniata."

In presenting the two awards, Dr. Binder noted that the Schlichter Award is named in honor of the late William A. Schlichter, a member of the Class of 1971 until his untimely death on Sept. 14, 1969, and is granted to a senior man on the basis of his record during his first three years at Juniata.

"Academic achievement, Christian character, dedication to Juniata and the promise of future usefulness — criteria which reflect the qualities of the student life of Mr. Schlichter — were evaluated in selecting David W. Miller as this year's recipient of the William A. Schlichter Award," Dr. Binder explained, adding that the criteria for the award "also reflect the essentials of developing a sense of community, of developing compassion for others."

Miller, who is majoring in physics, is a member of Sigma Pi Sigma (national physics honor society), the touring Concert Choir, the Inter-varsity Christian Fellowship, the J.C. Four (barbershop quartet) and the Deputation Club. He also serves as secretary of Juniata's chapter of the Society of Physics Students.

The second award, President Binder observed, is named for the late Mrs. Thornbury — a 1929 Juniata graduate and the daughter of the late Hon. Thomas F. Baily, President Judge of Huntingdon County from 1916 to 1936 — and provides a $500 scholarship to a senior who will enter law school following graduation from Juniata.

A pre-law major, Shealer was selected to receive the award based upon his high academic achievement, his positive contributions to campus life and an interview with President Binder and the college's dean of academic affairs, Dr. Donald T. Hartman.

Shealer is a member of the Juniatian staff, the Rugby Club, and the Barrister's Club, and last May, he served as the student host to Dr. Hermann F. Eilts, former U.S. Ambassador to Egypt (1973-79) and 1980 Commencement speaker.

During his sophomore year, Shealer studied for one term at the renowned Centre For Medieval and Renaissance Studies in Oxford, England, and during this year's fall term, he is participating in a legal internship with Huntingdon attorney Charles B. Swigart '65.

Homecoming '80

Alumni Enjoy 'Carnival' Scene

A "Carnival" theme — complete with a Ferris Wheel, other amusement rides and a "Coney Island Luncheon" on Oller Hall Lawn — was enjoyed by some 500 alumni who returned for Homecoming on Sept. 27.

The festivities began Saturday morning with the annual Homecoming parade, which featured two bands (Juniata's and Huntingdon High's), a drum and bugle corps (the Tyrone Guard) and numerous floats. Grand Marshall for the parade was Malinda C. (Mindy) Anderson '80, last year's Homecoming Queen.

Crowned Homecoming Queen this year was Betty Ann Sahlaney '81 of Houtzdale. Her Court consisted of Barbara E. Simpson '81 of Tyrone, Kelly Jo Walasik '82 of Aliquippa, Clair Warmerdam '83 of Rutledge, Patricia A. Price '84 of Lancaster and Kelly S. Hussey '84 of Norwalk, Conn.

President Binder crowned the Queen and her Court during halftime ceremonies at the afternoon football game with Albright College, which the Tribe won 35-10.

Other Homecoming activities included open houses (the H.B. Brumbaugh Alumni House, Founders Hall and the Charles A. Dana Humanities Center), a Bookstore open house, admissions interviews and campus tours.

The Shaw Brothers — who, as the Hillside Singers, recorded "I'd Like to Teach the World to Sing" (the popular version of the Coca Cola song) — concluded the day's activities with a Homecoming Concert in Oller Auditorium.

(For more news about Homecoming — during which the Century II Campaign was launched — see page 1, "From the Director" on page 10 and other brief stories and photographs contained elsewhere in this issue.)

Class of '84 Has 32

Prestige Scholars Are Announced for 1980-81 Academic Year

Included in this year's freshman class are 32 academic standouts, designated "Prestige Scholars" for 1980-81. In addition to this year's Simpson Scholarship recipient, 10 are recipients of Brumbaugh-Ellis Presidential Scholarships and 21 of Alumni Annual Support Fund Scholarships.

Including the Class of 1984, Juniata has awarded 45 Presidential and 111 AASF Scholarships. Both awards were initiated in 1976.

Qualifications for a Brumbaugh-Ellis or AASF Scholarship include outstanding records of scholarship, leadership and character. Normally, only students ranking in the upper one-tenth or upper one-fifth of their high school classes, respectively, are considered. SAT scores also are recognized, and a Scholar's award can continue for four years if a 3.0 (out of a 4.0) grade point average is maintained.

The Simpson Scholarship also recognizes high school class rank, SAT scores, citizenship, character and leadership ability.

"Prestige Scholars" for the Class of 1984 are:

Choral Groups Active In Variety of Programs

Juniata choral groups — under the direction of Bruce A. Hirsch, associate professor of music — have had an active fall and are looking forward to numerous appearances this winter and spring.

In October, the Concert Choir performed at the Atlantic Northeast District Conference of the Church of the Brethren in Philadelphia. Also during October, the Chamber Choir performed during the morning worship service at the Salford Mennonite Church in Harleysville and at the Church of the Brethren Home in Neffsville.

On December 13, the Choral Union — accompanied by the Nittany Valley Symphony Orchestra — will present the Christmas portion of the Messiah in Oller Auditorium at 8:15 p.m. Also in December, the Chamber Choir will perform during the annual Madrigal Dinner (Dec. 12) and the Chamber Singers will perform for the Rotary Club Christmas Luncheon (in Ellis College Center on Dec. 16).

The Concert Choir will make its annual tour from Feb. 26 to March 8. This year's tour will be in Florida, where the Juniata singers will perform during the Sebring Area Alumni Meeting and Luncheon at the Sebring Church of the Brethren (Feb. 28). On the following morning (Feb. 29), the Choir will sing during two worship services at the Sebring Church of the Brethren. The remainder of the choir's Florida itinerary is yet to be determined.

On March 22, the Choral Union will make a guest appearance with the Johnstown Symphony Orchestra. The two groups will perform Mahler's Symphony No. 2.

All three Juniata choral groups — the Concert Choir, the Choral Union and the Chamber Singers — will combine their talents on May 23 for the Commencement Choral Concert.

and a shortage of housing, this year's freshman class was kept to 380 students, down slightly from last year's record freshman class of 420. However, average College Board scores for the Class of 1984 stand at 1057 (combined math and verbal), an increase of 24 points over those of last year and an increase of 82 points over those of five years ago.

Music-making was an integral part of this year's Church of the Brethren Study-Action Conference, hosted by Juniata. Centered around the theme "Do Justice, Love Tenderly, Walk Humbly," the conference was attended by some 375 high school students.

Chris Umble '74 Is Named ASF Chairman

Christopher W. Umble '74 of Harrisburg, assistant director of the Bureau of Travel Development, Commerce Department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, has been named chairman of Juniata's 1980-81 Annual Support Fund (ASF).

The 1980-81 ASF campaign — which has a goal of $240,000 — is the College's twelfth such effort. During the eleven-year history of the ASF, gifts to Juniata have totaled more than $1.7 million.

After receiving his B.A. degree in humanities, Umble served as the first executive director of the Huntingdon County Tourist Promotion Agency (TPA). In this capacity, he was responsible for establishing the agency in the public eye as a viable mechanism for attracting tourism to Huntingdon County, the home of Raystown Lake.

He left his TPA post in 1975 to assume a position as executive director of Huntingdon Business and Industry, Inc. He continued in that capacity until assuming his current position with the Commonwealth earlier this year.

During his tenure with the two Huntingdon-area agencies, Umble was active in community and civic affairs, serving as a director of the Huntingdon Jaycees and singing with the Huntingdon Men's Chorus.

Equally active in Juniata affairs, Umble is a member of the Alumni Council and he has served as a Class Fund Agent, as a participant in the annual Alumni Career Fair and as a telephone campaign worker, both on- and off-campus.

Umble, who was listed in the 1973-74 edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, is married to the former Susan L. Keeler '75.

Artist Series Brings Top Acts to Campus

The 1980-81 Artist Series is bringing to campus and Central Pennsylvania some of the world's foremost artists in a variety of performing arts that range from music to dance to opera.

For example, the New York Pro Arte Chamber Orchestra, which opened the seven-program Series in September, is critically acclaimed as "one of the most eminent string ensembles originating in the United States."

Also highly distinguished is the Ensemble for Early Music, which traces its origins to Noah Greenberg's esteemed New York Pro Musica and which performed during October.

Remaining programs in the Series — all featuring artists who are among the world's most accomplished in their respective areas — will be presented by pianist Michael Houstoun on Nov. 16, violinist Oscar Shumsky on Dec. 5, the Central Pennsylvania Youth Ballet on Jan. 18, soprano Barbara Shuttleworth on Feb. 10, and the Pittsburgh Chamber Opera Theatre on April 12.

New to this year's series is a 3 p.m. Sunday matinee, to be presented by the Central Pennsylvania Youth Ballet. It and the other programs, which begin at 8:15 p.m., are scheduled for Oller Auditorium.

Enrollment Record Set For Second Year in Row

For the second consecutive year, Juniata has a record number of students, with this year's total enrollment of 1302 full-time students breaking last year's mark by more than 50.

Due to a high student retention rate

AROUND CAMPUS WITH FACULTY AND STAFF

■ Eleven persons have joined the College faculty this fall, including DR. HOWARD F. LONG '51, associate professor of education.

■ Joining the faculty for the fall term is DR. GERARD LEPOUTRE, professor of chemistry at the Ecole des Hautes Industrielles (HEI) in Lille, France. Dr. Lepoutre exchanged positions with DR. RUTH ELIZABETH REED, associate professor of chemistry, who is teaching for the fall at HEI. The exchange agreement — reached under auspices of the Fulbright Commission's Paris-based Franco-American Commission for Educational Exchange — is the first such at Juniata and one of only some 15 arranged this year for all U.S. colleges and universities. In addition, Dr. Reed received a Fulbright travel grant for her trip to France.

■ New appointees to the administration include: GREGORY F. ECKENRODE, instrument technician; CHRISTOPHER S. HILLCOAT, admissions counselor; and DAVID S. SIEBART, audio visual specialist.

■ Also new to the administration, but not to the College, is JOHN A. HARDY, promoted from boiler fireman to grounds supervisor. A Juniata employee for 12 years, Hardy also has served as a grounds worker. He further served for six years as president of Local 2099-1 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, which represents the College's physical plant.

■ Two administrators receiving promotions were MARSHA L. KYPER and PETER J. LEHRER, who both were advanced in rank from admissions counselors to assistant directors of admissions.

■ Members of the campus community participating in the Church of the Brethren 1980 Annual Conference in Pittsburgh last summer included: PRESIDENT BINDER (see below); BRUCE A. HIRSCH, associate professor of music, who directed the Concert Choir for the entire week; BETTY ANN CHERRY, associate professor of history, who led a Bible study for youth and the Friday evening worship service; DR. HAROLD B. BRUMBAUGH '33, vice president emeritus for college relations, who established a travel booth and promoted Out of the Wilderness: The Brethren and Two Centuries of Life in Central Pennsylvania, 1780-1980, a new book by DR. EARL C. KAYLOR, JR. '46 (see story on page 3); and the REV. DR. and MRS. M. ANDREW MURRAY (see below). Some 400 additional Juniataans attended the Conference, including faculty and staff members, alumni and friends.

■ ROB ASH, head football coach, has been named men's tennis coach, succeeding DR. ERNEST H. POST, JR., professor of history who coached the team for 20 seasons. As tennis coach at Cornell (Iowa) College, Ash led his 1976 squad to a fifth-place finish in the NCAA Division III Nationals. His four-season record at Cornell was 43-9.

■ PRESIDENT BINDER has had an active summer and fall attending conferences and meetings in four cities — Philadelphia, Toronto, Pittsburgh and New York. In June, Dr. Binder reported about an evaluation visit to Russell Sage College — which he chaired — to the Commission on Accreditation of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools.

Also in June, he attended a four-day meeting of the American Association of University Administrators-National Assembly Nine in Toronto. He then attended the Church of the Brethren 1980 Conference in Pittsburgh, addressing a special Juniata luncheon attended by a record number of some 160 alumni and friends of the College and meeting with the Higher Education Committee of the Church. Later in the summer, Dr. Binder traveled to New York to meet with the Board of Trustees executive committee.

During August, the President had a "Letter to the Editor" published in The Christian Science Monitor (Aug. 22). In his letter, Dr. Binder explained Juniata's unusual scholarship for left-handed students, established with a bequest from the estate of the late Mary F. Beckley of Elizabethtown and her husband, Frederick, a 1922 Juniata graduate.

Most recently, Dr. Binder attended a meeting of the advisory committee, which he chairs, to the Pennsylvania Enrollment Planning Project and a meeting of the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities, during which he moderated a session about demographics and enrollment planning.

■ RALPH B. CHURCH, associate professor of English and chairman of the department, delivered the first Harold B. Brumbaugh Trustee Lecture during the weekend of the Board of Trustees' Fall Meeting. Church's lecture — "Frost and Snow" — explored the meaning of snow in Robert Frost's poetry and marked the beginning of an annual lecture series which will feature Juniata faculty members.

■ DR. TOM LYONS FISHER, assistant professor of chemistry, has received a $16,500 grant from the National Science Foundation for a fluorescence spectrophotometer. The new instrument — described as one "which even most graduate schools don't have yet" — will enhance research about the effects of enzymes on vitamins being conducted by Dr. Fisher and his students. The instrument also will be utilized by many other students and faculty members.

■ DIANE GOLD, part-time instructional assistant in music, is the featured flutist on an album she recently recorded with the Alard String Quartet, Music for Flute and Strings by Three Americans. The album, released by Leonarda Productions, Inc., includes works by Amy Beach, Katherine Hoover and Arthur Foote. It is available in the Juniata Bookstore.

■ ALEXANDER T. McBRIDE, associate professor of art and chairman of the department, conducted a two-week workshop about "Non-silver and the Multiple Print" at Peters Valley, N.J., the National Park Service's prestigious community for producing craftspeople.

■ The REV. DR. M. ANDREW MURRAY and his wife, TERESA, raised more than $500 for Heifer Project International during a September benefit concert at the Ridgeway Community Church of the Brethren in Harrisburg. The Rev. and Mrs. Murray — campus minister and part-time instructional assistant in music, respectively — are accomplished musicians with three recording albums to their credit. In addition, Mrs. Murray is a private student of Leonard Raver, organist for the New York Philharmonic Orchestra and professor of organ at the Juilliard School of Music. The Rev. Murray also was a guest minister at the First Presbyterian Church in Altoona.

During the summer, the Murrays participated in the Church of the Brethren 1980 Annual Conference in Pittsburgh, during which Mrs. Murray served as pianist for the choir and worship services. In addition, they performed an evening concert for high school youth on the Gateway Clipper River Cruise and directed the youth during a worship service.

■ DR. JOSE C. NIETO, professor of religion and chairman of the department, served this term as an adjunct professor at McCormick Theological Seminary (Chicago), where he taught a two-week, credit course about "Spanish Church Reformers." Dr. Nieto was at McCormick the weeks of Sept. 29 and Nov. 3.

■ THOMAS J. NOLAN, registrar and professor of economics, has been named director of continuing education, succeeding DR. DUANE F. STROMAN in the position. In addition, Nolan succeeds DR. JAMES J. LAKSO as director of summer sessions. Dr. Stroman, professor of sociology and chairman of the department, is on sabbatical for the fall term, and Dr. Lakso, associate professor of economics and business administration, will be on sabbatical during the spring and summer terms.

■ DR. DUANE F. STROMAN, professor of sociology and chairman of the department, has finished compiling the extensive data for his "High School Drug Use Survey in South Central Pennsylvania." Dr. Stroman's survey — which includes results from 1533 students — is among 150 data files available to researchers from the Drug Abuse Epidemiology Data Center at Texas Christian University.

■ JACK G. TROY, part-time assistant professor of art, taught a summer ceramics workshop at the Scarsdale, N.Y., YM-YHA. He also designed and built a 45-cubic-foot kiln for the Lynch Pottery Shop in Penns Creek and had an article published in Ceramic Monthly, "Imitation, Parody and Ghost Potters of the Clay Underground." Troy further distinguished himself by taking first place — out of some 700 entries — in the 6th Central Pennsylvania Arts Festival Poetry Competition with his "Calling the Planet Home."

AROUND CAMPUS WITH STUDENTS

■ Fourteen students have been selected to serve as student representatives to seven different committees of the Board of Trustees: TOM R. McDONALD '83 of Titusville, N.J., and TRUDY G. RHODES '81 of Johnstown, buildings and grounds committee; PATRICIA COOK '81 of Allendale, N.J., and JANELLE L. BRUMBAUGH '81 of Duncansville, academic affairs committee; and LORI A. KELLER '82 of Port Trevorton and ELAINE A. TIMPE '82 of Emerson, N.J., finance and investment committee.

Also: DON A. DeARMITT '82 of Stoystown and JOYCE K. LACEY '82 of Cherry Hill, N.J., budget committee; MARK J. ICKES '81 of Tyrone and JANICE L. HAUB '81 of Plymouth Meeting, planning and development committee; DOUGLAS F. KLEPFER '81 of Bryn Mawr and GEORGE A. BOJALAD '81 of DuBois, executive committee; and AUDREY M. ARTZ '81 and MINDY A. TRUESDALE '82 of Hollidaysburg, student services committee.

■ Fifteen students have been chosen as student representatives to six faculty committees: KAREN R. SNYDER '81 of Irwin and MICHAEL DENNEHY '81 of Danville, curriculum committee; DOREEN M. YATKO '81 of Nanticoke, HEATHER J. MacCRINDLE '83 of Slatington and TAMMY S. HELWIG '83 of Oakland Mills, personnel committee; and CATHARINA L. GOODALE '81 of West Chester, ERIC J.

FUHRMANN '82 of Ebensburg, D. MICHAEL CRALEY '82 of Red Lion and G. DANIEL SHEALER '81 of Gettysburg, judicial board committee.

Also: MICHELE M. SINGEL '81 of Lancaster and ANNE MARIE DUBOSKY '82 of Levittown, library advisory committee; SUSAN J. TELMANIK '81 of Bedford and SARAH P. WILLIAMS '83 of Vineland, N.J., executive committee; and BARRY L. KLINE '82 of Jersey Shore and JOHN C. KELLY '83 of Dalton, computer center advisory committee.

■ Four students comprising the Student Affairs Council are: DOUGLAS F. KLEPFER '81 of Bryn Mawr; RUSSELL E. CAMERON '82 and DANIEL T. ROBERTS '82, both of Ebensburg, and KELLY J. WALASIK '82 of Aliquippa.

■ JILL S. WINDWER '81 of Wayne, N.J., a pre-law major, is this year's recipient of The Rebecca C. Barrick Language Prize for Women. Established in 1969 by the Women's League of Juniata College, the award honors one of the league's most loyal members and is given each year to a woman student concentrating in language studies (classical or modern, including English) who has made a distinguished record in her program of emphasis in her first three years. The recipient is selected by the dean of academic affairs and a committee of his choosing from the department of languages.

AND VISITORS, TOO

■ DR. JAMES S. DINGER '67, assistant professor of geology at the University of Alabama at Birmingham, delivered lectures during September to two environmental geology classes about the consequences of pumping too much water out of the ground in Nevada. He also discussed the sink hole hazard in Alabama and its relationship to the pumping of ground water in that state. Dr. Dinger taught at Juniata during the 1970-71 academic year while Dr. J. Peter Trexler, professor of geology, was on a leave of absence.

■ DR. WALTER KROELL, president of West Germany's Philipps University in Marburg, visited Juniata while on a U.S. tour that included stops at only eight other U.S. institutions: Harvard University, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the University of Pennsylvania, the University of California at Berkeley, Stanford University, Georgetown University and the University of South Carolina.

While on campus, Dr. Kroell had dinner with President Binder and faculty members, as well as breakfast with students from Philipps, who are participating in Juniata's unique one-for-one student exchange program with Philipps and several other European institutions. The German university president, who is also a professor of physics, further had an extensive tour of the Brumbaugh Science Center, considered one of the finest such facilities in the nation for a medium-sized college.

& PARENTS WEEKEND, TOO

Women's Squads Highlight Fall Action; Men's Teams Record Mixed Results

Autumn seemed to be in the middle of its term and students were studying for their mid-term exams. Likewise at press time, the Indian fall sports squads were in mid-season, and several had been extremely impressive.

Without further ado, then, a brief look at action to date and prospects for the remainder of the season.

Even with 16 starters returning from last year's 5-4 club, this began as a year chock-full of question marks. For one, the Tribe had a new head coach — Rob Ash — who immediately instituted a new Veer offense. For another, it had been four years since the Indians began a season without the services of tailback Dewayne Rideout '80 and linebacker Larry Shepard '80.

In addition, the Tribe was to face its toughest schedule in years, with new faces at several key positions.

While still too early to give a final grade, it appeared that most of the questions had been answered satisfactorily.

Despite their record, the Indians had played good ball this fall and were definite contenders for the MAC Northern Division title.

In their opener, the Tribe traveled to Long Island to take on Division II power C.W. Post. Despite being substantially outweighed, the Tribe battled the Pioneers on even terms through three quarters before bowing 28-10.

The squad bounced back, trouncing Albright, 35-10, on Homecoming. On Parents Day, it lost a heartbreaker to Gettysburg, 42-35, when the Bullets scored the winning touchdown with less than 1:30 to play.

Still in the MAC title chase, the Indians kept their hopes alive by defeating a tough Susquehanna squad, 27-10, to up their mark to 2-0 in the conference.

"I'm fairly pleased with our play to-date," said Ash. "We are averaging well over 300 total yards per game and our defense has done a good job most of the time, but we need to gain more consistency to be as successful as I feel we should be."

High points had been the play of the offensive line and the versatility of Jeff Miles '80. The line play was a big question entering the season, as All-East performers Eric Bollinger '80 and Todd Blankenstein '80 were gone. But a relatively young group led by co-captain and offensive tackle Matt Osekowski '81 had matured quickly and looked extremely sharp.

Miles began the year as the Tribe's starting left cornerback, but had seen action at running back, flanker and quarterback. When starting quarterback Mike Nett '82 was injured in the Albright game, Miles—who had never played quarterback before—was called upon to replace him. Miles was named All-East for the week, rushing for 102 yards and throwing for 107 more and two touchdowns.

In the loss to Gettysburg, Miles gained 150 yards and scored four touchdowns to once again garner All-East honors.

"With our injuries its hard to make predictions, but I honestly feel we have the best chance of anyone of unseating Lycoming from the championship seat," Ash concluded. "We'll need to improve in several areas, but the potential is there and now we must go out and prove that we're a good football team."

FIELD HOCKEY (4-2-1)

With an outstanding group of freshmen on hand, the stickers were off to a fast start and were assured of at least a tie for the MAC SouthWest Section championship. The Indians had defeated divisional foes Western Maryland and Dickinson, and tied defending MAC champ Gettysburg. Outside of SouthWest Section play, the Tribe had twice defeated Lycoming, and had lost only to Frostburg and Susquehanna.

Freshmen Liz Abel and Patty Price ranked first and second, respectively, in early MAC scoring. Abel had tallied two goals and five assists, while Price had added four goals and two assists.

In the goal, Nanci Young '82 had recorded four shutouts and was one of the top-ranked goalies in the MAC.

"Except for letdowns, in the Frostburg and Susquehanna games, we've played excellent hockey," said Latimore. "Our program has reached the point where we're competitive with the top schools in the MAC, and now we must develop the consistency needed to win the conference."

VOLLEYBALL (12-2)

Easily matching the sticker's success had been the achievements of the volleyball squad. Coach Larry Bock's team, despite being racked by injuries, was well on its way to another berth in the MAC championships and another bid to the AIAW Eastern Regionals (Division III), where it placed fourth last year.

The squad's two losses came at the hands of Division II powers Indiana (Pa.) and Edinboro. Against Division III opponents, the Tribe was undefeated. In fact, the spikers had lost but one game (of 31) in its 12 match victories.

The Indians had participated in one early tournament, winning the Washington College Invitational. Juniata dominated the tournament, yielding just 19 points in four matches.

Leading the Indians had been setter Claudia Tweardy '83. Called "one of the premiere setters in the East" by her coach, Tweardy had been spectacular, both setting and serving. In one game Tweardy served all 15 Indian points.

Co-captains Julie George '81 and Amy Bowser '81 had provided excellent leadership and had come up with the big plays when they were most needed.

"The two losses won't hurt us come tournament time," Bock noted. "I actually think they'll be good for us, as the girls now know they have lots of room for improvement and the selection committee will know we've been playing tough teams."

SOCCER (0-6)

This has been a season of frustration for the booters. After a 12-0 opening-day thrashing at the hands of MAC power Elizabethtown, the squad had shown steady improvement, but had been unable to break into the win column. The Indians had lost a pair of one-goal games and another game by two goals.

"We must learn to maintain our intensity for a full game," noted coach Klaus Jaeger. "We've actually outplayed several opponents, but a lapse or two has cost us victories."

Forward Brian Bullock '82 and midfielder Chris Doran '84 had played good, steady ball for the Tribe and goalie Mark Infanti '81 had looked impressive at times.

MEN'S CROSS COUNTRY (4-1)

Coach Don Mitchell's harriers had picked up where they left off last fall and might even better last year's 8-2 performance. Led by two-time MVP Bill Shuler '81, the Tribe had lost only to MAC power Gettysburg. Wins had included Susquehanna, avenging one of last fall's defeats.

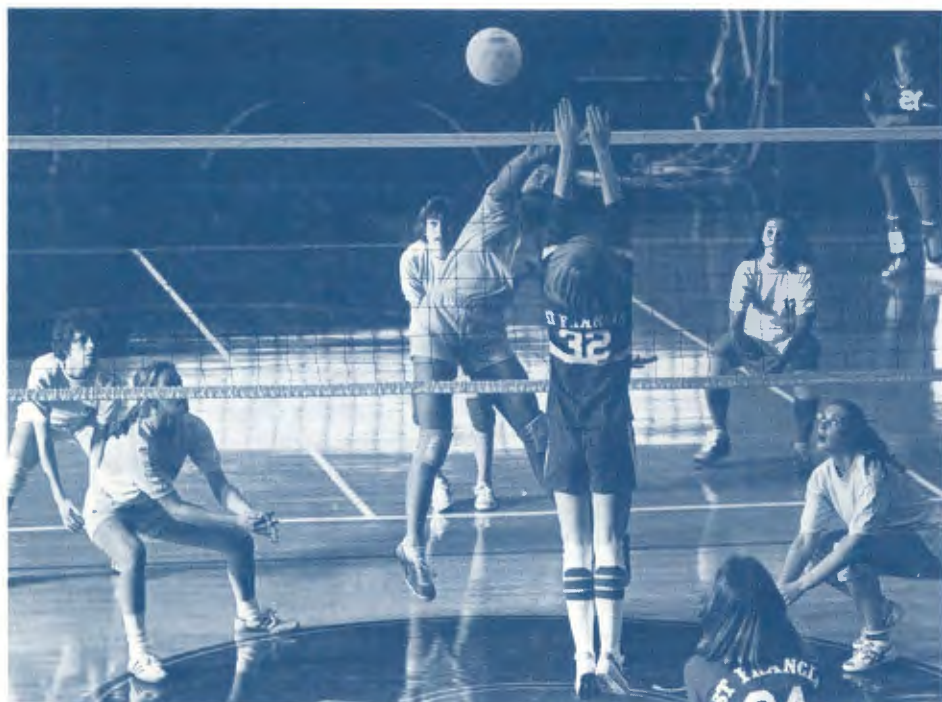

Three sophomores — Tom Wise, Andy Pearson and Tom Hoffman — had consistently pushed Shuler for top honors.

"We have done better than I expected, and I'm quite pleased with our performance thus far," noted Mitchell. "Now we'll point towards the MACs. I expect to finish in the top 10, and a top-five finish is not out of the question."

WOMEN'S CROSS COUNTRY (1-2)

Juniata's newest varsity sport got off to a slow start, but after a 26-30 upset of Shippensburg, coach Bill Latimore was optimistic. "We have a spirited group and our losses came to two of the better teams on our schedule. In addition, we had one of our top runners out for that meet, so I feel the rest of the season should be a success."

Carolyn Andre '84 has paced the Tribe this season, drawing raves from Latimore and opposing coaches as well. "She should be one of the top performers in the MAC meet," Latimore notes. "She has a lot of potential and there is no telling how far she'll go."

Winter Preview

Women's Cagers Have Strength in Veterans; Grapplers and Men's Dribblers Eye Frosh

As the fall sports teams hit mid-season, the winter squads were opening drills on chilly College Hill. Two come off record-breaking years, and another has hopes for dramatic improvement. The outlooks, then:

Though only three lettermen return from last year's 6-16 club, men's cage coach Pat Frazier feels he has the talent to better last season's record.

"We have three fine lettermen back, plus several top-flight reserves and jayvee players," Frazier says. "We also have the best crop of freshmen since I've been here."

The top returner is 6-5 forward Joe Chuba '82, the Tribe captain this year. Chuba led the squad in rebounding last season (6.3) and was second in scoring (7.9). He will be joined up front by a pair of rugged veterans, 6-5 Bob Bruzga '82 and 6-3 Andy Witmer '83, and a pair of highly-touted freshmen, 6-4 John Voler and 6-3 Tim Nagle.

"We're loaded at guard," says Frazier, "no question about it. We have four tough returners, plus four outstanding freshmen. There's going to be a real battle for the starting nods."

The returners are junior lettermen 6-1 Scott Lehigh and 6-2 Scott Johnson and sophomores 6-2 Stan Hudzicki and 5-11 Chet Sowal. The frosh are 6-2 Chris Ortyl, 6-2 Dan Feruck, 6-0 Paul Kardish and 6-3 Jeff Ostrowski.

"Our success will depend upon how soon our freshmen adapt to college ball," Frazier concludes. "If they toughen up quickly, we'll have a good, solid club."

"Years like the last one don't happen very often," says women's coach Nancy Latimore, who adds with a hint of optimism, "but it does give us an attainable goal to shoot for." That goal is last year's 24-4 record, a berth in the national Division III quarterfinals and a number-7 national ranking.

Captain Julie George '81, the Indians' career scoring leader with 1041 points, leads the list of veterans. A 5-10 center, George is second in career rebounding and holds 30-plus Juniata single-game, seasonal and career marks.

Also returning are sophomores Amy Brua (11.4 points per game), Judy Pepoy (11.3) and Nancy Roach (8.0). Zone-breaker Terri Eckenrode (5.2) and a host of quality freshmen will provide necessary depth. "We face a tough schedule, including Scranton and UPJ, the two teams who finished ahead of us in the Regionals, but I feel we're up to the challenge," says Latimore. "We'll miss Nancy Zinkham '80, but if we can keep last year in its proper perspective, I feel this squad will be successful in its own right."

Julie George '81

In wrestling, finally, coach Bill Berrier returns seven of 10 starters from last year's record-breaking 11-4-1 club. The losses, however, are big ones: Juniata career victory leader and All-American Joe Paskill '80; Todd Roadman (19-4 and third in the MACs last year) and Bruce Amig.

Bob Funk '82 and Bob Gay '82 lead the list of returners. Funk, 19-7 at 142 pounds last season, placed second at the MACs and qualified for the NCAA Division III nationals. Gay also posted a 19-7 mark, an injury preventing an up-to-par performance at the MAC meet.

Other top returners are heavyweight Dan Jendrzewski '82 and 190-pounder Keith Sherbine '83.

"Losing Paskill, Roadman and Amig will not be easy to overcome," says Berrier. "Our schedule is tougher this year and we may not have the depth. But we have several good freshmen coming into the program so we hope to continue to be successful."

basketball), Paskill is using the scholarship at Temple University's School of Dentistry.

The first Juniatian to receive the NCAA honor, Paskill was the 1980 recipient of the John E. Blood Memorial Award, given to a Juniata athlete for combined athletic and academic excellence. Paskill recorded a 70-15-3 career mat mark and compiled a 3.83 academic average out of a possible 4.0.

Eight Sports Guides Receive National Honors

Eight Juniata sports publications from the 1979-80 year were among the best in the nation (Division C) according to judging by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA). The Indian volleyball guide took a first place, topping the list in the large "Single Sport" category.

The College also took three runner-up nods with its tennis (men's and women's) and golf brochures and a post season program (for the MAC Women's Basketball Championships). It further captured a pair of third places with its cross country and track brochures and picked up two honorable mentions with its football and wrestling guides.

No other school in Division C (NCAA Division III and NAIA Division II) captured more than five citations.

All-American Wrestler Receives NCAA Postgrad Scholarship

Joe Paskill '80, the Indians' first wrestling All-American (1979) and career mat victory leader, has received a prestigious NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship. One of just six athletes nationwide to receive a grant in the Division III "Other Sports" category (excluding football and

Latimore Named Head Coach Of Two New Women's Teams

Bill Latimore has been named head coach of Juniata's women's cross country and softball squads. As coach of the College's newest varsity sports, Latimore joins wife Nancy — Indian field hockey, women's basketball and women's tennis coach — on the Juniata athletic staff.

The 32-year old Latimore, a 1978 West Chester State College graduate, served as advisor to both clubs during the 1979-80 season. He is a teacher in the Huntingdon Area School District.

Founders Club Names Good to Chair, Honors Beachley During Annual Dinner

Joseph R. Good '33 of Hollidaysburg, vice chairman of the board of trustees, assumed the chairmanship of the Founders Club during its annual dinner, succeeding Dr. Harold B. Brumbaugh '33 in the post.

Also during the dinner, Donovan R. Beachley, Sr., '21, of Hagerstown was honored for distinguished service to the College.

President Binder presented Beachley with a painting of Founders Hall in recognition of "many years of dedicated and energetic service, in a multitude of capacities, to Juniata College."

The Founders Club began the tradition of presenting outstanding Juniataans with a painting of Founders Hall in 1976, when Juniata was 100 years old. Founders, the first building constructed on the present campus (completed in 1879), recently underwent a $385,000 renovation project.

In recognizing Good as the new chairman, Dr. Binder observed that "with his deep dedication to Juniata and his proven leadership abilities, Mr. Good is certain to direct the Founders Club to new levels of achievement."

The Juniata President further observed that under Dr. Brumbaugh's two-year chairmanship the Founders Club reached a record membership of almost 1100 persons.

Good, chairman of the board of the Hollidaysburg Trust Company, began his association with that firm in 1949. He advanced to president in 1966 and served in that capacity until his retirement in 1972, being named to the firm's board chair in 1978. Good has served on the Juniata Board since 1952, assuming the vice chairmanship in 1979.

A prominent Hagerstown, Md., business executive, Beachley is chairman of the board of the Beachley Furniture Co., Inc., Hagerstown. He has been a trustee of the college since 1945.

Both Good and Beachley have served Juniata in numerous capacities.

In addition to serving on the Board, Good was director of the 1967-68 Alumni Fund Campaign and in 1971 was named chairman of the special gifts committee for Phase II of the Margin of Difference campaign. He served on the College's presidential selection committee in 1975 and was chairman of the trustee campaign for the final phase of the Centennial Development Campaign.

Beachley, who was awarded the honorary doctor of laws degree by Juniata in 1968, served as chairman of special projects for Phase II of the Margin of Difference campaign. Also included in his many years of service to the College was the endowing — along with son Donovan R. '47 — of the Beachley Distinguished Professor Award, presented annually at Commencement.

Judge Brown Named Chairman Of President's Development Council

The Honorable Charles C. Brown, Jr. '59, Judge of the Centre County Court of Common Pleas, has been named chairman of the President's Development Council, succeeding William E. Swigart, Jr. '37, in the position.

Judge Brown — who most recently served Juniata as chairman of its 1978-79 Annual Support Fund, to which a record 52 percent of alumni contributed — will chair the 50-member Council for a three-year term.

Prior to his appointment as Judge, he served Centre County as district attorney for 12 years and was a partner in the Bellefonte and State College law firm of McQuaide, Blasko and Brown, Inc.

Judge Brown, who previously served as a member of the President's Development Council, also served a three-year term as an alumni representative to the Board of Trustees. He further has served Juniata as president of the National Alumni Association, as a class fund agent and as a regional campaign chairman for the $10-million "Margin of Difference" campaign.

Active in numerous church and civic affairs, Judge Brown is married to the former Sandra Sue Johnston '59. Of the couple's four children, two are currently Juniata students, Steven '82 and Douglas '84. The Browns reside in Bellefonte.

Meeting semi-annually on campus, the Council provides volunteer leadership for major development campaigns, both capital and annual. It also advises the administration about plans for campus development and provides leadership for various other projects.

Centre County Common Pleas Court Judge since January, Judge Brown received his law degree from the New York University School of Law in 1962, having studied as a Root-Tilden Scholar.

Scholarships Established In Memory of Paul Yoder and Martin Heine

Families and friends of the late Paul R. Yoder and Martin H. Heine are establishing Juniata memorial scholarship funds in honor of the two men.

The Yoder Memorial Fund will provide financial assistance for needy and worthy students, while the Heine Memorial Fund will provide a meritorious scholarship for senior-year students pursuing a career in business.

Professor emeritus of physics at Juniata and a Church of the Brethren minister, the Rev. Yoder was a dedicated educator whose concern for his students brought him the utmost respect from students and colleagues alike. (For a more complete synopsis of the life and accomplishments of Rev. Yoder, please refer to his obituary on page 11).

Mr. Heine, a prominent Huntingdon business executive and civic leader who died last June, was a generous benefactor of the College for many years. A local automobile dealer for 50 years, he began his business career in Huntingdon in 1915, when he came from Staten Island, N.Y., to work for his uncle, C.A. Vuille.

Vuille, Huntingdon's pioneer automobile dealer, died in 1922, after which Mr. Heine assumed his uncle's Cadillac dealership. Mr. Heine also held the Studebaker dealership until 1931, and in 1930, he obtained the Buick franchise and later the Jeep franchise. He sold his dealership to Sun Enterprises in 1971.

In 1934, Heine founded the Martin H. Heine Petroleum Co., Inc., which he owned and operated until 1979. In addition, he was active in Huntingdon banking, serving first on the board of directors of the First National Bank of Huntingdon. After the First's merger into Penn Central National Bank, he continued to serve on the board until his death.

Always a generous supporter of Juniata College, Heine was a member of its Founders Club, its Friends of the Library and its Indian Club.

Active in community and church affairs, Heine served as president of the Pennsylvania Petroleum Association and was a member of the Huntingdon County Historical Society, the Standing Stone and Alexandria Garden Clubs, the Friends of the Huntingdon County Library, the Friends of the Alexandria Public Library and the OX-5 Club. He also was an active member for 50 years of the Presbyterian Church, which he served as an ordained elder, trustee and president of its corporation.

Persons interested in learning more about either the Yoder or Heine memorial scholarship fund — or both — are cordially invited to request further information from the Office of Development.

FROM THE DIRECTOR

David A. Kreider '71
Director of Alumni Affairs

The Harold B. Brumbaugh Alumni House was indeed a beehive of activity during Homecoming Weekend. Countless alumni and their families registered for the weekend activities in the H.B.B. Alumni House, where many also enjoyed light refreshments while reminiscing with old friends. The weekend itself was an overwhelming success.

The day began with a joint meeting of the Alumni Council, Alumni Club Presidents and Class Fund Agents in Shoemaker Gallery, while the Church-College Relations Council met in Ellis College Center. These four groups of volunteer leaders were joined by the President's Development Council for the inauguration of the Century II Campaign (see story on page 1).

Homecoming is not complete without a parade and this year was no exception. Twenty-four units, including eight floats, two bands, a drum and bugle corps, six jeeps, two groups of mummers and a variety of local fire and rescue equipment delighted a large gathering of spectators.

This year began like all others since 1970 with the traditional alumni gathering at the summer home of Jane and Joe Good '33 in New Enterprise. Alumni from four different club areas enjoyed the swimming pool, shuffle board, and, of course, the game room. New to this year's celebration were two beautiful swans, recently acquired by the Goods. Thanks to David A. Mauro '71, president of the Blair-Bedford Club, for his leadership in organizing this annual event.

Alumni Club programming for 1980-81 will be given special attention by the Alumni Office. It's hoped that each of our 21 active alumni clubs will be responsible for at least one meeting during the year. Because of alumni interest, it's anticipated that we will have alumni gatherings in two areas where we do not currently have existing alumni clubs. Alumni Club presidents will be encouraged to select meeting dates early in January for their Annual Spring Meeting and this office will communicate those dates in this column in the next BULLETIN.

May 23, 1981, is the date for Class Reunion Weekend. All classes ending in the numbers "1" or "6," as well as those classes prior to 1931, will be having reunion dinners. Alumni interested in serving on their class reunion committee should contact the Alumni Office.

I look forward to seeing you at a Juniata function sometime during the coming year.

ALUMNI ACHIEVEMENT NOMINATIONS SOUGHT

Each year the Alumni Council presents the Alumni Achievement Award to an alumnus who has reached a high plateau in his or her chosen profession. A complete listing of former recipients and their occupations appears below. Please review this list and if you can identify an alumnus who would qualify for this high honor, please use the attached coupon to make your nomination.

distinction of being the oldest graduate of the College.

Following graduation, she taught school for two years, at Trough Creek Valley and McAlevy's Fort. "They were one-room schools and I taught all eight grades," Beula remembers.

Then, in 1906, Beula went to Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia, for nurses training. After completing her nursing studies, she spent several years doing private nursing in the Philadelphia area, then moved to New York City, where she took a position as school nurse at Spence School, then a private boarding school for girls. Except for a brief time following World War I, Beula remained at Spence School until 1933.

That interlude was spent in Altoona, where she worked at Mercy Hospital and had a sideline business as a masseuse. "When the doctors would have a patient who needed massage therapy, they would refer the patient to me and I would go to the patient's home to give the prescribed treatment," Beula relates.

Since 1933, the centenarian has lived in Huntingdon. She returned to the community to take care of her mother, "Grandma" Mierley as she was affectionately known, and later, her brother. Grandma Mierley was 94 when she died and Dr. Clyde V. Mierley, 82, at his death in 1960.

Secret of Longevity

Her secret of longevity, she explains merely as "I've always tried to take care of myself." She adds that both grandfathers lived to be "pretty old."

Beula, who voted in the first election open to women, looks back on her "years in Manhattan and summer vacations then" as outstanding years of her life.

Beula says the biggest change in life that she remembers was "giving up horses and then the great use of automobiles." She, herself, did not ride in an automobile until she was in her 20s — then rode in her brother's autos.

Last Wednesday, Beula was honored at an early birthday celebration, hosted by niece Helen. Attending were these friends and relatives: Mrs. Helen Mierley (Alexandria); Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. '38 Beck; Betty Beck; Mrs. J. Richard Burkholder; Susan B. Greenleaf; Patricia M. Beck '68; Gladys M. McElwee; Marian Sue McElwee '61; and Martha Bowman '35.

Paul R. Yoder Eulogized by Alumnus

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following obituary about the Rev. Paul R. Yoder appeared in the September, 1980, issue of Physics Today and is reprinted here with the magazine's permission. It was written by one of the Rev. Yoder's former students, Erwin L. Hahn '43, professor of physics at the University of California at Berkeley.

By ERWIN L. HAHN '43

Paul R. Yoder, professor emeritus of physics at Juniata College, died May 11, 1980 at the age of 81. A native of Kansas, he received his bachelor's degree from McPherson College in 1921 and his master's degree from the University of Kansas in 1922. Later in his career he studied at The Johns Hopkins University, the University of Pittsburgh, Ohio State University, The Pennsylvania State University, and the University of Wyoming.

The career of Professor Yoder was unique in combining the activities of a teacher, administrator, and ordained minister. His first position was as professor of mathematics and physics at Blue Ridge College (Maryland) from 1922 to 1926. He then accepted an appointment as head of the Physics Department at Juniata and, except for a brief period during World War II, remained there until his retirement in 1965.

For the first 30 years of his tenure at Juniata, he functioned as the sole member of the Juniata physics faculty, beginning in 1926 when physics was considered a minor service course discipline for a small college. With the heavy burden of being the "entire physics department" in those early years, he nevertheless inspired students (including the writer) to go on to graduate school, and established the basis for the fully-staffed and well-developed physics program which exists today in Brumbaugh Science Center.

As an administrator, Professor Yoder was director of the summer sessions at Juniata from 1938 to 1943. In 1945, he supervised instruction of theory at the U.S. Navy's Radio Schools in Bedford Springs and Hollidaysburg. In 1946, he served briefly on the physics department faculty at Penn State and then returned to his former position at Juniata.

In 1953, Professor Yoder was a founding member and thereafter a continuing supporter of the Central Pennsylvania Section of the American Association of Physics Teachers. He was an active proponent of the establishment of Society of Physics Students and Sigma Pi Sigma chapters in the smaller colleges across the nation. From 1940 until his death, Professor Yoder was an active member of Kiwanis International, serving in official capacities at local and state levels and receiving several citations for his administrative accomplishments.

An ordained minister in the Church of the Brethren since 1918, Professor Yoder applied his talents not only in the classroom and administrative offices, but in the pulpits of numerous churches, primarily in Central Pennsylvania, until his retirement from the ministry in 1976. His unusual combination of understanding and devotion to both science and religion was strongly felt by his students, many of whom have advanced in the field of physics not only armed with the technical fundamentals but, more importantly, also inspired by his personal attention in the classroom and laboratory.

As time passes we look back with a greater appreciation of the critically important guidance and advice provided by our first dedicated teachers. In the atmosphere of a small college of high quality, Professor Yoder was a teacher of this kind. We will long remember him and strive to fulfill the goals and ideals he set for us early in our academic careers.

In keeping with his perennial interest in his students as individual people, a memorial scholarship is being established in Professor Yoder's honor at Juniata (please see related story on page 8).

Willard R. Trask Dies in New York

Willard Ropes Trask, an internationally-acclaimed translator and a Juniata faculty member from 1967 to 1969, died Aug. 10 at New York University Hospital. A resident of Manhattan, he was 80 years old.

Extremely versatile, Trask translated into English — from Spanish, French, Portuguese, German, Italian and Chinese — works ranging from prehistoric religion to medieval poetry to folk songs.

Because of the esoteric nature of much of his work, his name went unnoticed on many title pages until the public "discovered" him through his highly-regarded translation of Giacomo Casanova's 12 volumes of The History of My Life, from the original

French manuscript.

In fact, when the first double-volume was published, Trask was one of two recipients of the first National Book Awards for translators of classical and contemporary works.

The year was 1967, the same year the distinguished translator came to Juniata as a lecturer in humanities. During his two-year tenure at the College, he taught courses in the foreign languages department, including his popular "Art of Translation."

In recognition of his distinguished career, Columbia University's Translation Center honored Trask at age 78 with its initial gold medal, citing him for "a lifetime of excellence."

Oldest Alumnus ('02) Celebrates 100th Birthday

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story – about the 100th birthday celebration of Beula Mierley '02, the College's oldest alumnus – appeared in the Sept. 9, 1980, edition of The Daily News (Huntingdon). It was written by another Juniata graduate, Marian Sue McElwee '61, and is used with her permission and that of the paper's editor, James D. Hunt '56.

By MARIAN SUE McELWEE '61

When Beula Mierley was born, there were no automobiles, trolley cars, bicycles, cameras, movies, radios — not even an aspirin.

Instead it was an era in which Rutherford B. Hayes was president of a country having 38 states; Thomas Alva Edison was revolutionizing life with new-fangled inventions, such as the telephone; Geronimo was terrorizing the West; John L. Sullivan was taking on all comers in barefisted prizefighting en route to the first heavyweight championship; and Mark Twain was becoming one of America's best-loved authors.

Into that world, Beula Mierley made her advent — on Sept. 14, 1880, in Hill Valley, one of the fertile farm regions of Huntingdon County. Beula's parents were George and Belle (Lane) Mierley and she had an older brother, Clyde, who later was one of Huntingdon's most respected dentists.

Today, Miss Beula Mierley lives at 1528 Mifflin St., Huntingdon, with her niece (by marriage), Mrs. Helen (Hess '25) Mierley. Although her health is rather frail, and the years have taken their toll on her eyesight and hearing, Beula is still a familiar figure to her "uptown" neighborhood and can be seen, on occasion, visiting nearby neighbors.

Juniata's Oldest Graduate

The century of her life has been filled with active living. Her career began in 1900 when she came to Huntingdon to attend the Brethren Normal School (Juniata College), from which she graduated in 1902. She has the
